

Content

| | |
|--|------------|
| Foreword by the author | 11 |
| Foreword by Rolf Kleber | 13 |
| 1 Introduction | 15 |
| 2 The development of the concept of trauma | 19 |
| The concept of trauma in the DSM | 19 |
| The child perspective in the DSM | 24 |
| The child perspective on trauma | 26 |
| The child experiencing trauma | 29 |
| 3 The developmental perspective on trauma | 33 |
| The youth substrate | 34 |
| Receiving a traumatic experience in the mind | 35 |
| The DPT model | 43 |
| Description of the developmental stages | 46 |
| Awakening traumas during puberty | 49 |
| 4 Applying the developmental perspective on war trauma | 53 |
| Translation of the developmental stages to war trauma | 56 |
| 5 Applying the developmental perspective on intimacy and sexual abuse: DPI and DPST | 63 |
| Intimacy | 63 |
| Intimacy and sexuality | 64 |
| Sexual abuse | 65 |
| A model of intimacy synchronized with sexual abuse | 66 |
| 6 Implications for treatment of trauma | 85 |
| Trauma Impact Model, TIM | 86 |
| 7 Epilogue | 97 |
| References | 101 |
| Outlines | 113 |
| Tables | 113 |
| Figures | 113 |
| Name index | 115 |
| Subject index | 117 |
| Glossary of concepts developed by Martine Delfos used in this book | 121 |
| Information on the author | 123 |
| The PICOWO-series | 125 |