

Table of Contents

Introduction to ‘Think Parents!’	7
Parenting support in Europe: what it brings and what it can take away Jo Hermanns	11
Parenthood as a rollercoaster ride Finding the parental perspective in parenting support programmes Katie-Lee Weille	27
Evidence-based support versus thinking parents in participative projects Michel Vandenbroeck, Griet Roets & Rudi Roose	35
Universal parental support work to promote health among children and young people in Sweden Johanna Ahnquist	45
The National Parenting Strategy in Scotland Marion Macleod	51
Implementing positive parenting programmes at the local social services level for the prevention of child maltreatment in Spain María José Rodrigo, Sonia Byrne & Miriam Álvarez	59
Participating, documenting and learning: possible educational alliances between families and ECEC services Elena Luciano & Monica Guerra	67
Parental agency and volunteer work in family centre activities Milla Kalliomaa	75
The Parents, in their children’s life Benedikte Ask Skotte	81
“Parents Have a Say, Too” Initiative Boris Spasić & Milena Mihajlović	89

Investing in family and parenting support: inspiring practices across Europe Agata D'Addato & Anne Williams	99
The parents' perspective in policy, research and practice on parenting support in Europe Ruben Fukkink & Caroline Vink	107
Short biographies of contributors to Think Parents!	117